DO NOT RECOMMEND: B&B Tree and Landscaping 203-824-5921

- - after name indicates they have requested to be on list, not a referral by someone else.

Guidelines:

- Get the contractors State license number and check on the State of Ct website to see if their license is current: https://www.elicense.ct.gov/Lookup/LicenseLookup.aspx
- Verify that they have Workers Compensation and liability insurance, and that the Contract indicates they have coverage. If they do not, and your property is damaged or someone gets hurt, or their tools and/or equipment id stolen from you home, you may be liable!
- Ask the contractor to give you a bid that itemizes materials and labor, and then adds their overhead + profit. Many contractors will not do this, but it is in your best interest, and in the long run, will help the contractor stay in business. Bear in mind that the prices the contractor lists for materials may be higher than you think you would pay by purchasing them yourself.
- Always get a written contract, with two copies, signed and dated by you and the contractor.
- Never give a down payment of more than 1/3rd of the contract price, unless you have a written quote from the supplier of materials to be used on your job. (see #3).
- Ideally, the contract should specify a payment schedule based on the job progress, with the final payment after any City inspection (if possible, be present during the inspection) and CoO is issued, and you are satisfied the work is done according to the Contract.
